Clinical Visit Note

Northgate Spine and Pain

Patient: Robert Sato
DOB: 02/17/1966
Date of visit: November 1, 2026
Attending: Dr. Kenji Iverson

Assessment and plan

Transforaminal epidural steroid injection at left L5-S1 performed under fluoroscopic guidance. Indication: low back pain radiating down the left leg to the foot, consistent with lumbar radiculopathy. Symptoms persisted despite 8 weeks of physical therapy and daily anti-inflammatory medication. MRI of the lumbar spine shows a left L5-S1 disc herniation with compression of the S1 nerve root. Procedure tolerated well, no complications.

Synthetic document generated for HealthOps AI. All names and identifiers are fictitious.